

Press Release
For immediate release
Feb 13, 2023

Last Supper Museum Opens in Douglas

The Last Supper Museum is now open, with more than 2,000 representations of the Biblical event so famously depicted by Leonardo Da Vinci on the walls of the Santa Maria delle Grazie convent in Milan, Italy. This new Douglas attraction is at 1101 North G Avenue, kitty-corner across from the Gadsden Hotel. The Museum is open Tuesday through Sunday, from 10 AM to 4:30 PM.

While Da Vinci's Last Supper painting is the most well-known, his masterpiece was just the starting point to what has become the most reimagined and reinterpreted theme in all of art. Today, Last Supper paintings, sculptures, and artifacts number in the millions. Museum founder Eric Braverman began collecting Last Supper artwork in his youth. His pursuit of Last Suppers led him to The Last Supper Museum in Greensburg, Indiana, and its collection of roughly 2,000 Last Supper items from all over the world. When the Indiana museum's owner passed on during COVID, Braverman was able to bring the collection to Douglas, and merge it with his own. It is now open as the largest collection of Last Supper art and related items in the world.

The Last Supper Museum joins the Gadsden Hotel, Art Car World, and the historic Douglas-Williams House as truly interesting attractions in Douglas, just a short drive from Sierra Vista and Tucson, and only a short walk across the border from Agua Prieta. Give Eric Braverman a call at 623-877-4596 for a personal tour of the new museum. But you dont need an appointment to view this amazing collection. Come by anytime!

Website: <https://lastsuppermuseum.com/> E-mail: contact@lastsuppermuseum.com

Jon Donahue
858 775-4882
Jon404@outlook.com
P.O. Box 1220, Tombstone, AZ 85638
Public Relations, City of Tombstone
www.DiscoverTombstone.com
President, Arizona 80 Foundation
www.Arizona80.org

